cabi INDEPENDENT STYLIST COMPENSATION SUMMARY

Cabi Stylists earn commissions based on sales of the seasonal Collection. Stylists earn 20-33% commission on their personal sales and 2-8% commission on their team sales. “Commissions” are defined as all payments made to the Stylist based on the Stylist’s own commissionable sales, less returns, and all bonuses paid to the Stylist based upon team members’ commissionable sales, less returns. This does not include any incremental earnings from either the post-season resale of a Stylist’s Seasonal Inventory or Stylist seasonal incentive awards. Stylists are able to scale their cabi business up or down based on the needs of their life, working when, where, and how they want, so commissions are a result of the specific effort and actions that individuals attribute to their business. Cabi makes no warranty or representation as to one’s level of success. Profits are not guaranteed, as the cabi Commission Plan is based upon the sale of product.

Among the cabi Stylists who met seasonal sales minimums (1) for both the Spring ’23 and Fall ’23 seasons, approximately:

- The top 1% earned $227,025 on average in 2023.
- The top 10% earned $99,571 on average in 2023.
- The top 50% earned $43,333 on average in 2023.
